

BAR PINTOS

WHAT ARE PINTXOS?

Gastronomical experiences are an integral part of any trip to Spain. If you happen to explore Northern Spain, bar hopping to eat pintxos (or pinchos) are an absolute must. These delicious snacks accompanied by drinks are a perfect way to enjoy an evening out with your friends or family. Trying out the several varieties of pinchos at the bar counters gave me an opportunity to experiment with interesting food choices and different recipes on my visit here.

It is also a great way to understand the food culture and local life in the North of Spain, the Basque country, known not only for its pintxos but for its lush green lands and its fierce independent identity.

The informal yet incredible social way of dining differs from tapas in many ways, one of the most distinguishable ways is that pintxos are held together with sticks. You don't need to order them just walk up to the bar, grab what you want and pay for the sticks on the plate at the end of your journey, it's that simple.
